Working Group on SELECTION CRITERIA

12 December 1951

CENTRALIZATION OF SELECTION FOR PARTICIPATION
IN THE CIA CAREER SERVICE PROGRAM

1. INTRODUCTION

The Working Group agreed to consider the subject of centralization of selection of candidates for participation in the Career Service Program in over-all, general terms as distinguished from the procedures of the selection process which will involve detailed consideration of such specific items as promotion policy, selection out, and so forth.

2. RECOMMENDATIONS

A. Policy respecting both the selection process and the operation of the Program should be centralized in a CIA Career Service Board, acting on behalf of CIA as a whole, while the mechanics of the selection process should be decentralized to Office Career Service Boards. The procedures and details of operation of the Program should be a primary responsibility of Assistant Directors and Office Heads. In order to provide further decentralization, if the size of a particular Office or comparable unit makes it necessary for efficient and equable processing, Assistant Directors or Office Heads should create additional, equally empowered boards as necessary.

B. CIA Career Service Board

1. Membership:
  - a. Deputy Director, CIA or alternate
  - b. Deputy Director, Plans or alternate
  - c. Deputy Director, Administration or alternate
  - d. Director of Training
  - e. Assistant Director, Personnel

Secretariat (Career Development Staff: Personnel Office)

2. Functions:
  - a. Develops policy governing the Career Service Program for submission to the Director of Central Intelligence and serves as his advisor on all matters concerning the Program.

II Working Group on EMPLOYEE RATING

25X1A9A

(9 meetings have been held and the following summary is complete through 14 December 1951)

1. Performance Rating

- A. The Working Group agreed to devise a rating system that can be integrated into the Career Service Program. It was further agreed that the technical requirements for a rating system under Public Law 873 could undoubtedly be met without difficulty even though CIA would request exemption from that Law by reason of administrative restrictions that were not compatible with security.
- B. Further discussion on Performance Rating resulted in a recommendation to the Career Service Committee by the Working Group that there be no Performance Rating as such, but there will be recommended an employee evaluation system which will evaluate every employee. In the evaluation system current job performance would be included as a factor requiring rating by the supervisor in the process of evaluation.
- C. Review of the procedures of other agencies led the Working Group to recommend to the Career Service Committee that Employee Rating be included in the evaluation system in the same wording as is used by AEC in complying with Public Law 873. The AEC statement is:

"John Doe meets (or exceeds) the requirements of his position." or "John Doe does not meet the requirements of his position."

2. Employee Evaluation

- A. Primary purpose is to insure to the Agency and the employee the best use of his aptitudes, knowledges, skills, and interests. Evaluation of these factors is the first step for planning a career development system.
- B. From definition of purpose the Working Group is now moving to selection of evaluation factors as they relate to aptitudes, knowledges, skills, and interests.

3. General points of agreement of the Working Group.

- A. Job families may necessitate the establishment of more than one evaluation system but the purpose is to maintain simplicity and the Group will endeavor to recommend only one system for all employees.
- B. An employee evaluation system to be effective requires proper training of the supervisor making the evaluation and, to a limited extent, discussion between employee and supervisor. The latter is limited as certain factors in evaluation do not lend themselves to such discussion.
- C. Each member of the Working Group will use some device to determine the position of his Office on the conclusions or recommendations made by the Group.

III Working Group on CAREER BENEFITS

25X1A9A

(8 meetings have been held and the following summary is complete through 14 December 1951)

1. An agenda has been adopted, arranged in numerical order of priority for study, to provide a structure around which the problem of career benefits to CIA employees can be most advantageously studied, as follows:

- I. Hazardous duty benefits.

- A. Increase in base salary for service involving unusual hardship and hazard.
- B. Extension of the authority contained in Confidential Funds Regulations, authorizing pay, within grade advances, and grade promotions for individuals who are detained involuntarily to include those employees paid from vouchered funds.
- C. Application of United States Employees Compensation Act to dependents of employees engaged in hazardous duties who are themselves exposed to hazard.
- D. Death gratuity of six months' base pay to dependents of CIA employees whose death occurs in line of duty while serving abroad.
- E. Consideration of retirement benefits.

- II. Consideration of the adoption of new classification and salary schedules in lieu of the present policy which follows provisions of the Classification Act of 1949 and allowances for overseas service.

- III. The equitable application of leave to all classes of employees.

- IV. Career benefits inherent in the recognition of distinguished service to the Agency.

2. By Memorandum to Career Service Committee, dated 19 November 1951, re "Parachute Pay for Staff Employees and Staff Agents," the Working Group recommended that parachute pay for appropriate trainees is necessary and desirable and presented six broad principles for consideration, with the recognition that such principles would require approval of the DCI and that detailed regulations necessarily must be devised upon such approval. The principle document of reference considered by the Working Group pertaining to this subject is the Memorandum from the Assistant Director of Training (Covert) to the Joint Training Committee, dated 18 September 1951.

Note The problem was referred by the Career Service Committee to the Senior Review Committee for approval of regulations to be drafted by the Advisor for Management. The Senior Review Committee was convened on 30 November 1951 and after full discussion referred the problem back to the Career Service Committee for inclusion of other types of hazardous duty pay encountered in training situations. This being an operating problem of the Office of Training, the Committee asked that Office to handle directly with the DD/A (Special) henceforth.  5X1A

3. By Memorandum to Chairman, Career Service Committee, dated 29 November 1951, re "Continuance of Pay and Allowances", the Working Group suggested that, through an appropriate method, the benefits of the Missing Persons Act, or similar provisions, be made available to all employees of CIA. Along this same line is to be considered a bill pending before Congress, S. 1820, which is to accomplish the same purposes of the Missing Persons Act, which will expire as a wartime statute upon ratification by the Senate of the Japanese Peace Treaty. Recommendation was made that CIA support S. 1820. Since it is obvious that the progress of the Bill will have to be followed carefully in order to insure that probable revisions will maintain it consistent with CIA objectives, it was further suggested that such responsibility for action be placed on the General Counsel's Office (for following the Bill and informing the appropriate Congressional Committees of CIA support for the provisions of the Bill).

4. In connection with the overall task of the Working Group ("Consideration of the adoption of new classification and salary schedules in lieu of the present policy which follows provisions of the Classification Act of 1949...."), [ ] presented his views on the need for some kind of "Commissioned Service", perhaps along the lines of the State Department's Foreign Service, within the CIA. Following are some objectives which would be attained by such career structure.

- a) Discipline and control of personnel necessary for flexibility to meet rapidly changing situations.
- b) Stability of personnel.
- c) Esprit de Corps
- d) Career retirement plan.
- e) Wage and Pay schedule on a long range career basis.
- f) A Reserve to be called upon in case of need.
- g) Legislative confirmation of existence.
- h) Acceptance of the philosophy that in CIA, responsibility should be vested in the individual rather than the position.

25X1A9A

25X1A9A

After much discussion, it was agreed that [ ] and [ ] will study the career structure plans of the Armed Forces, Foreign Service, Public Health and other "commissioned services" and, after such study, will prepare an outline to be brought before the Working Group for discussion in the near future.

Agreed that: The Working Group on Extension Training judges that Appendix B is of primary interest to the Working Group on Trainees, in view, however, of the statement in Appendix P, page 67, first paragraph, concerning arranging programs in the Universities, we desire to point out that changing conditions in extension training requirements and facilities are such that no definite list of extension training facilities should be made up.

Appendix R, page 72: Graduate Training - CIA Intelligence School

Agreed that: Decision postponed until completion of consideration on other points. There was disagreement among group members both as to whether this group should express its views on the compass of the CIA Intelligence School, and as to what methods, if any, should be taken to obtain clarification on this point.

- e. On: Appendix M, page 61: Language Training for Specialists

Agreed that: The Working Group on Extension Training believes that, because of the basic importance of language studies, the specialized needs of the Agency, and considerations for security and convenience, a considerable proportion of language instruction should be given to the Agency in the CIA Language Program.

VI Working Group on ROTATION

25X1A9A

(9 meetings have been held and the following summary is complete through 11 December 1951)

1. The Working Group has tentatively agreed that an individual should serve two years with the Agency and be a GS-7 or above before he becomes a part of the rotation system.
2. The following definitions have been adopted:
  - A. Rotation: The process of systematic designation and redesignation of an individual to various kinds of duty and training for the purpose of improving his capacity to serve the Agency.
  - B. Training: The process of providing instruction and practice in intelligence and related activities, initially and throughout the career of the individual in order to develop necessary attitudes, skills and knowledge and to broaden his understanding of various phases of the activities of the Agency.

For purpose of this definition, training may take place within the Agency or at external facilities, either in the United States or overseas. Training may also include designated duty other than a regular duty assignment for the purpose of providing instruction and practice in activities of the Agency collateral to the regular duty assignment of the individual.

3. The Working Group adopted the following statement concerning the objectives of Rotation:
  - A. The broad objective of rotation is to improve the capacity of the individual to serve the Agency. Specifically, rotation aims at the following objectives:
    - (1) for the Agency:
      - (a) a more effective and more economical utilization of the Agency's manpower.

- (b) a method of improving the selection and broadening the experience of individuals to serve in key positions.
  - (c) the cultivation of an "esprit de corps" based primarily on the reward for merit principle.
- (2) for the individual:
- (a) assisting him to do his present job more effectively by:
    - 1. increasing his knowledge in depth in his field.
    - 2. providing him with new skills, techniques and methods of performance.
    - 3. improving his ability to plan his work and to direct and supervise others in it.
    - 4. increasing his understanding of the necessary relationships of his job to those of collateral and higher echelons of the Agency.
  - (b) preparing him to undertake jobs of increasingly greater responsibility commensurate with his growth potential by:
    - 1. broadening his understanding of the objectives of the Agency and its mission.
    - 2. intensifying the development of his planning, managerial and supervisory skills.
  - (c) providing him more opportunity to find the field in which he does best.
  - (d) removing an individual from a "rut".
- 4. It was agreed that while most jobs will fall in the category of Generalist or Specialist it would be inadvisable to attach these labels to the individual.
  - 5. The fact that any individual proves to be non-promotable but is highly qualified at his present level and position does not necessarily require selection out or further rotation.
  - 6. Individuals may be rotated from a job to other assignments and back to the same job but not necessarily so.
